NEW CEO FOR OPTISCAN

Optiscan Imaging Limited announces the appointment of Mr Matthew Barnett as their Chief Executive Officer, effective the 4th December 2002.

Matthew has a technical engineering background and substantial general management experience gained from several business leadership roles with Amcor Limited and the Boston Consulting Group.

Matthew's experience in the development and implementation of commercialisation strategies will greatly assist Optiscan with our previously announced focus on the commercialisation of Optiscan's leading edge products and technologies.

Matthew will take over the CEO role from Peter Delaney, who will become Director of Technology for Optiscan.
